Trip summary

This trek is truly one of India's hidden gems, offering spectacular views of the Garhwal Himalaya and taking you along trails through a remote region where few western trekkers come. You will be walking in the footsteps of Lord Curzon, who in 1905, when Viceroy of India, first blazed this trail. He was followed later by Shipton and Tilman on their way to Nanda Devi. Today, you may revel in the peace and breath-taking beauty of these mountains and enjoy the company of your friendly trekking crew and just a few passing pilgrims, local shepherds and only the occasional trekker. You will trek over mountain passes and through dense forests of oak, pine, rhododendron, fir and deodar, crossing many streams and traversing beautiful grassy 'bugyals', the wide open alpine meadows so typical of this region, which serve as high altitude summer grazing grounds. Camp sites on this trek are a delight - carpeted with grass and flowers and enjoying wonderful views. Throughout the trek you will get the most amazing views of the mountains of the Garhwal Himalaya, including Trisul, 7,120m/23,360ft, the trident Nanda Ghunti, 6,309m/20,699ft, the tooth like Changabang, 6,864m/22,520ft, the unmistakable pyramid of Kamet, 7,756m/25,446ft, and Nanda Devi itself at 7,817m/25,646ft.

The crossing of the Kuari Pass, 3,658m/12,001ft, described as having one of the finest views in the Himalaya, is a fitting climax to the trek and from here you will enjoy spectacular sunrise views of an array of the high peaks. Almost as superb are the views from the beautiful meadows at Gorson's Top, from where you will have a spectacular panorama of the legendary Nanda Devi (the highest mountain that sits entirely within India), surrounded by an awesome 6,000m/19,800ft wall which forms the 'sanctuary'. The British spent decades attempting to penetrate the goddess's sanctuary, finally succeeding in 1934 when Eric Shipton and Bill Tilman crossed the Kuari Pass on their way to the Rishi Gorge and Nanda Devi. In 2000, our M.D., Steve Berry, was lucky enough to secure a special permit to lead the first British group to enter the fabled Inner Sanctuary since it was closed in 1983. He was accompanied by the famous Indian mountaineer, Col 'Bull' Kumar who was the leader of India's first expedition to summit Nanda Devi. Also, on the trip was Eric Shipton's son, John, as well as the well known English climber Ian McNaught Davis, the explorer and author Hugh Thompson and Col Kumar's son Akshay Kumar. Nowadays the Sanctuary itself is closed but this trek is a fabulous alternative.

After descending from Gorson's Top to the pilgrim town of Joshimath, you complete your journey with a morning's rafting on the Ganges River by the holy city of Rishikesh, and a train ride back to Delhi.

Your trip itinerary

Day 1: Fly London to Delhi.

---

Fly overnight from London to Delhi.

Overnight: In flight

Day 2: Arrive Delhi. Group transfer to the Hotel Regent Grand for lunch. Afternoon train to Haridwar - 6 hours. Transfer to Hotel - 2 hours.

You will arrive in Delhi in the morning, and will be met and transferred to the Regent Grand Hotel where you can freshen up and change, followed by lunch in the hotel's restaurant. After lunch you will be transferred to the Old Delhi railway station to take the afternoon train to Haridwar, a journey of about 6 hours. You will then be transferred to your hotel at Rishkesh, a further two hours by road.

Day 3: Drive to Rudraprayag - 3-4 hours.

---

After breakfast, you drive eastwards, up river, for about 4 hours to Rudraprayag. Rudraprayag is situated at the holy confluence of Alaknanda and Mandakini rivers and the area is famous as the spot where the famous colonial hunter, Jim Corbett, killed with his last bullet, the Man-Eating Leopard of Rudraprayag, which had reportedly killed more than 125 local people over an 8 year reign of terror. The book is a classic read.

You will stay overnight at the Monal Resort Hotel, near Rudraprayag.

Overnight: Monal Resort Hotel (Meals: BLD)

Day 4: Drive to Loharjang, 6,561ft/2,000m - 5-6 hours.

---

After an early start you follow the River Ganges until Deoprayag, the confluence of the rivers Alaknanda and Bagirathi. The road then follows the Alaknanda River, and finally the Pindar River up to Tharali. You are at the mercy of road conditions and while the road is good up until Karnprayag, there are often rough sections to cross up to Debal. From Debal the road runs up to Loharjang. You are likely to be woken to the gentle cries of the myna birds roosting in the nearby trees.

Overnight: Camp (Meals: BLD)

Day 5: Trek to Didana, 8,202ft/2,500m - 4-5 hours.

---

You start trekking down into the Gyan Ganga valley, entering rhododendron and oak forest, with parties of laughing thrushes, drongos and magpies. After an hour or so you reach a clearing with panoramic views of steep forested hillsides where you may spot soaring birds of prey and in spring hear the distinctive sound of the cuckoo. You continue to the river valley which takes around 2 hours from the start of your walk, and you follow the river valley before crossing the river and making the steep climb on a good path to the small village of Didana. Your first camp is above the village just below the forest, a very scenic spot in an open grazing meadow.

Overnight: Camp (Meals: BLD)

Day 6: Trek to Gorati Patal, 11,000ft/3,354m - 6-7 hours.

The day starts with a steep climb up through the forest. After three hours you will emerge above the tree line for wonderful views of Chaukhamba and Nilkanth as you walk along high grassed ridges before reaching the meadows of Bedni Bugyal. This high meadow is the main camp used by travellers on the great pilgrimage to Roop Kund that takes place every 12 years. It is a beautiful place dotted with shrines and temples and the morning gives awesome views of Trisul, as well as of the mountains of the Garhwal such as Nilkanth to the northwest. You will continue for 30 minutes to reach Gorati Patal where you will camp tonight.

---

Day 7: Trek to tourist bungalow above Wan, 8,045ft/2,437m - 3-4 hours.

The track makes a long, steep descent through a fine forest of firs and rhododendrons and across a beautiful clearing with much of the track being paved. After another drop, you reach the river 2 hours later. After a climb you reach the main valley, at the head of which is Wan. You camp above the village, by a tourist bungalow, on a wide tree-fringed terrace. Just above the bungalow is the sacred grove of Latu, another famous local devta (spirit), whose temple lies under one of the biggest Deodar trees in India. Unfortunately some of its branches have snapped off near the top. Wan is a fascinating old village where the men and women continue to wear traditional Garhwali brown, homespun wool blankets pinned across the chest. There are lovely views across the valley of small hamlets amongst the steep terraces and forested hillside. The fine forest is a perfect habitat in which to find hooded oriole, laughing thrushes and flycatchers.

---

Day 8: Trek to near Sutol via Kunol, 7,500ft /2,300m - 6-7 hours.

---

Walking on past Latu's temple the path climbs gently up through magnificent cypress trees to the beautiful Kukin Khal pass at 10,070ft/3,069m, reached in about 1¾ hours. There are two graves of holy men here. The path drops down to broad meadows with the track marked with stone rows on either side. Another 45 minutes takes you to the end of the broad meadows to near Kunol. From here the track drops down east again on a long undulating traverse through magnificent forest, filled with monkeys, to the confluence of two rivers where you will camp below Sutol after a further 2½ hour walk. You may get views of Trisul through the trees.

Day 9: Trek to Ghunni, 8,200ft/2,500m, via Dekhandhar, 6,955ft/2,120m - 9 hours.

---

A short climb brings you to Sutol, a lovely village with paved alleys and heavy slate roofs. There is a post box here should you wish to post letters. The track now traverses along the valley with a number of ups and downs and huge drops to the river gorge below, through forests smelling of fir trees. After dropping to a river, crossed by a green girder footbridge there is a long steep climb to a little temple on a col at 8,200ft/2,499m. From here, passing fields and small holdings and dropping once again to a side river, there is a good place for lunch after a total of about four and a half hours. A very steep upper track leads you to a bridge and then after a gradual climb through forest you will emerge near farms and fields up to Dekhandhar at 6,955ft/2,120m, on a ridge with amazing views of Trisul, one and a quarter hours from the lunch stop. As you pass through the village of Ala you will see a house with magnificent carvings on the porch. After about four hours you reach your camp by the school of the small village of Ghunni.

Day 10: Trek over the Ramani Pass, 3,064m/10,053ft, to Jhinji, 1,000ft/305m - 4-5 hours.

From Ghunni you will climb steeply over 1,000ft/305m from the camp on a good zigzagging track to emerge on open grassy grazing meadows. Snow peaks begin to emerge above the forest to the north. You then begin to climb steeply again as the path moves diagonally through forests of rhododendrons, pines and holm oak with more pastures for summer grazing, with shepherd huts below to your right. You may meet flocks of sheep and goats moving along the track. The highest point, reached in two and a quarter hours from the camp, at 3,064m/10,053ft, is the Ramani Pass, also called Binayak Top. There are magnificent views of Trisul through the trees. It is also possible to make out the Kuari Pass which you cross on day 13. From now on there may be a chance to see the multi-coloured monal pheasant but they are very shy, being hunted by the locals for the pot.

You then trek gently down for a while across more pastures and open glades, then into lovely forests of horse chestnuts and walnut trees with waterfalls. The track now starts a steep and long zigzag descent, reaching the colourful village of Jhinji.

---

Day 11: Trek from Jhinji to Kaliaghat, 7,500ft/2,300m - 5 hours.

From Jhinji the trail today carries on down, past small farms through woods. The trail carries on down past small farms through woods to the spectacular suspension bridge at 6,037ft/1,840m across the Birehi Gorge, currently inhabited by a large number of monkeys. From here a very steep climb takes you back to 2,250m/7,382ft where the track eases after one and a half-hours ascent. From here the path is almost flat passing through fine rhododendron forest, with long-tailed magpies flitting about. There are many streams and waterfalls as the route contours round many deep re-entrants. If you look down to the deep gorge below, you can see the landslide and the Gauna Lake, which burst to flood the whole of the Ganga Valley down to Rishikesh in 1898. After going round the head of a horseshoe valley you reach two lovely rivers cascading down under the path. From here there is a short climb to a spot called Kaliaghat, a good campsite near the village of Pana.

Day 12: Trek to Dhakauni via Sartoli and Domabhiti, 11,000ft/3,353m - 7 hours.

---

This is another long, but spectacular day. The route traverses above the village and then starts a steep climb up into rhododendron forest, with many zigzags - it is a broad, well-made track but after quite a number of false summits, a col is reached at 9,842ft/3,000m. The path now descends gently, traversing along the valley, to open meadows with views across to the Kuari Pass. The track then traverses down around the side of the valley, across several streams, before it plunges down a very steep and loose section, much of which has been washed away by the monsoons - an awkward and loose descent. At the bottom, you will see to your right that the river has cut through a deep rocky dramatic gorge. This is wild country with no settlements, and blue sheep and Himalayan black bear are said to be roaming here. From the river, it is a very steep climb of about 3,000 feet/900m with a small break about half the way up to cross a large stream. A final climb brings you above the tree line to the campsite on the large pastures where sheep and goats graze in summer, with the Kuari Pass towering above.

Overnight: Camp (Meals: BLD)

Day 13: Trek from Dhakauni, across the Kuari Pass (Kuari Khal), 12,000ft/3,658m, to Tali - 5-6 hours

---

The day starts early today - so you don't miss out on the magnificent early morning views at Kuari Pass. The trail from Dhakauni climbs through the forest, past the tree-line...and then you wait. Wait for the spectacular Himalayan views that the early morning sunrise will bring! It's incredible to think that the British Viceroy of India came up her exploring in 1905.

After taking your time to admire the views and take your photos you begin your descent. The trail descends to a fork where you follow the path to Tali that leads eventually to a ridge with a temple and prayer flags fluttering in the wind. From here the two massifs of the divine Nanda Devi (Bliss-Giving Goddess) come into view. On a clear day you would be able to see Dronagiri, Trishul, Changabang, Hathi Parbat and Rishikot as well. This is where you will settle for the night - in a meadow with rhododendron trees, gazing up at this panoramic view of the Himalaya.

Day 14: Trek to Auli via Gorson's Top. Drive to Joshimath, 6,562ft/2,000m.

The trail from Tali is a gradual climb across the mountain ridge which narrows down until it reaches three grassy dunes, collectively called Gorson's Top. Here the Himalaya achieve a kind of perfection; the view is of a formidable fortress standing guard over the Nanda Devi Sanctuary, a place Sir Edmund Hillary once called a "God-gifted wilderness", and from the centre rises the divine Nanda Devi, all 7,817 meters of her! Time stands still here and you now understand why the Himalaya enthralled Lord Curzon as much as it did.

Trek completed, you meet your driver at Auli and drive to Joshimath for your overnight stay. Joshimath is a town in the Indian state of Uttarakhand. Located at a height of 1,875m/6,150 feet, it is a gateway to several Himalayan trekking trails and pilgrim centres like Badrinath. The town is said to have special spiritual powers and is believed to be where Hindu guru Adi Shankaracharya found enlightenment in the eighth century before going on to establish a monastery here. Visitors pass through the town on their way to the famous Sikh shrine, Hemkund Sahib, and the Hindu temple at Badrinath.

Overnight: Dronagiri Hotel (Meals: BLD)

Day 15: Drive to Rishikesh - approximately 8 hours.

---

A long but excellent journey to Rishikesh with fabulous scenery, especially for the first 50 km or so. Cliffs, waterfalls, rainbows, jungle, views of Elephant Parbat and Horse Parbat. It becomes more tropical the lower you descend with monkeys, palm trees, huge butterflies, and of course it is becoming hotter all the time.

Overnight: Summit by Ganges, Rishikesh (Meals: BLD)

Day 16: Rafting in Rishikesh. Evening transfer to Haridwar. Train to Delhi.

---

Rishikesh is the ancient road-head for all pilgrim traffic and this small town, in the season, is bursting with groups of villagers from all over India, clamouring for seats on the buses to the four hill shrines. The northern part of the town is called Muni-ki-Reti and refers to the silver shores of the river where the rishis of old meditated. Across the Ganga, large, sprawling but well-maintained ashrams teach yoga and publish books on the scriptures.

This morning there will be time for some white water rafting before driving on to Haridwar in time for the train to Delhi. The rafting goes from Shivpuri to NIM beach, around 11-12km, and takes a couple of hours to complete. It features roughly seven rapids, both minor and large. Roller Coaster (III+), Golf Course (III+), and Club House (III) are some of the good rapids you will run on this stretch. Expect some large waves, splashes and powerful hits on this fun-packed river adventure. If you prefer not to raft then you can use the time to explore Rishikesh at your leisure.

Your train arrives into Delhi in the late evening and you will be met and transferred to your hotel.

Overnight: Red Fox Hotel or Similar, Delhi (Meals: BLD)

Day 17: Group transfer to the airport. Fly to London.

---

After breakfast you will be transferred to airport for your flight back to the UK. (Meals: B)

Our grading system

Curzon's Trail & Kuari Pass is graded as a Vigorous trekking holiday, as described below.

Vigorous

Typically these trips involve 8 to 14 days (occasionally more) trekking in relatively remote landscapes. High passes up to 4,900m/16,000ft may be crossed (sometimes snow-covered) and there may also be glacier travel and peak ascents. Walking days can be between 5 and 8 hours with considerable ascents and descents. This grade also covers some European treks of shorter durations. Overnight stops on trek could be in tea houses, mountain huts or camping.

These holidays would suit enthusiastic hill/mountain walkers.

Trip altitude

---

Important - please be aware that this trip involves travel at altitude. Whilst all our itineraries are carefully designed to optimise acclimatisation to high altitudes, participants on this trip are likely to experience some symptoms of being at altitude. If you require further information or advice on travel at altitude prior to booking please contact the office to speak to an experienced member of our team. A variety of factors such as adverse weather conditions, changes to local schedules and difficulties with transportation can all contribute to the need to make changes to the itinerary, often at the very last minute. Our Operations Manager and your Trip Leader will make every effort to maintain the integrity of the original itinerary and minimise the impact of any changes, but an easy-going and flexible nature is a real asset! Please note that all timings and distances given are approximate.

Mountain Kingdoms - distinctly different

Truly independent

In an age where many so-called 'independent' travel companies have in fact been bought out by multi-national giants, we remain fiercely independent with all the benefits this offers our clients.

Value for money prices with an emphasis on quality

We are not in the business of cutting our itineraries and services to the bone to offer eye-catching cheap prices. We use some of the best airlines, and typically 3 or 4 star hotels in cities. We include the majority of meals and private transport for road travel. We use excellent equipment and appoint well-trained staff and leaders. Last year, over 98% of our clients rated their Mountain Kingdoms holiday as 'excellent' or 'good'. We are members of AITO and bound by their quality charter.

Complete financial security

You can book with us confident that your holiday has full financial protection. Flight inclusive holidays are financially protected by the Civil Aviation Authority under ATOL licence number 2973 and 'Land Only' holidays are covered by a bond secured with ABTOT.

No Surcharge Guarantee

Your peace of mind is important to us so we have a No Surcharge Guarantee on all Land Only and Flight Inclusive bookings. This means that there will be no change to the price of your holiday once we have confirmed your booking, regardless of fluctuations in exchange rates or fuel prices.

Award winning Responsible Tourism

We feel strongly that all our holidays should benefit local communities, protect the environment and respect local traditions, religion and heritage. You can read more about the charities we support and our Responsible Tourism commitments and initiatives on the following page or at www.mountainkingdoms.com.

Genuine small group travel

Almost all of our holidays have a maximum group size of just 12, plus leader. This provides more contact with your leader, readier access to off-the-beaten-path areas, greater interaction with local communities and a reduced environmental impact.

Loyalty Discount

If you have previously travelled with us we recognise your loyalty with a discount on future trips.

Booking your holiday - it couldn't be easier

Once you've chosen your Mountain Kingdoms holiday you can book online, call the office or complete and post a booking form which can be found in our brochure or downloaded from our website. If you would like to hold a place on one of our trips, whilst you make up your mind, please give us a call to make a provisional booking. This is a no-obligation, no-cost booking and we will hold your place until space comes under pressure or we need your decision.

Comprehensive information

When we receive your booking we send you a full trip dossier which contains details of visas and vaccinations required, a suggested gear and clothing list and lots of useful information. In fact, everything you need to know to give you peace of mind and allow you to prepare for your trip of a lifetime.

RESPONSIBLE TOURISM STATEMENT CLIMATE EMERGENCY PLAN

For over 33 years, Mountain Kingdoms has been offering people the chance to visit amazing places on this extraordinary planet. We now offer trips to all corners of the world, but we are conscious that inevitably our holidays have a detrimental impact on the world around us, and we want to do all we can to reduce our carbon emissions. We are a signatory to Tourism Declares a Climate Emergency, along with a growing number of like-minded, reputable tour operators. For more information, please visit www.tourismdeclares.com

From 2020 onwards, we will be focusing on how we can reduce the carbon emissions that our holidays produce, and how to counterbalance this carbon by supporting carbon offset measures. Here are some of our current and future plans to minimise the impact of our business as a whole:

Carbon Offsetting

Already doing:

- ✓ We have been offsetting carbon since 2007, but will be increasing our donations to the Ecoan tree planting project in Peru this year. This is with a trusted partner where the funds go directly to a project where the community plants trees on its own land.

Will do:

- ✓ We are working on making our carbon offsetting more accurate and targeted.
- ✓ In future, we will add to that a further estimate for carbon produced by hotels, local road travel, trains and internal flights to arrive at a carbon offset sum for each trip we operate.
- ✓ Carbon offsetting will be included in our holiday prices. For our Flight Inclusive holidays it will include the international flight and any emissions produced by inland travel and accommodation. Our Land Only prices will include the cost of offsetting emissions caused by inland travel and accommodation.

Reducing Carbon Emissions

Already doing:

- ✓ We already offer the majority of our customers a free filtered water bottle which means they can instantly cut down on their single-use plastic consumption. This will be an ongoing project.
- ✓ We already predominantly use locally owned hotels, but will continue to ensure that, where possible, we use these rather than multinational chains.
- ✓ We have joined the Tourism Declares a Climate Emergency initiative to stand alongside like-minded travel companies, to work together to initiate best practices to make tourism as sustainable as possible.

Will do:

- ✓ We will re-evaluate our flights to make sure we are using the most fuel efficient airlines with the youngest fleets and, where possible, direct flights for each trip.
- ✓ We will stop offering unnecessary optional flights – for example our Everest sightseeing trip.
- ✓ We will eliminate unnecessary staff flights wherever possible.
- ✓ We will look at minimising internal flights.
- ✓ We will be asking all our worldwide agents and suppliers to look at their own carbon footprint and encourage them to reduce it.
- ✓ We will promote our more low impact trips to give customers an informed choice.

As part of our wider commitment to Responsible Tourism, we will continue to support a number of charities with whom we have had a long standing relationship over many years. These include: Shiva Charity in Nepal (Ginette Harrison School), Simien Mountains Mobile Medical Service and Porter Welfare, as well as setting aside a sum for emergency disaster relief should the need arise.
